U.S., Panama Appear Near a Settlement

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Panama appeared today to be moving toward a settlement of their bitter dispute over the Panama Canal.

Panama's President Roberto Chiari announced Monday night that he believed President Johnson had opened the way for a solution of the seven-week-old crisis.

Almost immediately a five-member mediation team of the Organization of American States went into a midnight session here with Panama's OAS Ambassador Miguel J. Moreno.

Afterward the negotiators said the two countries were "moving fast and courageously" toward a settlement.

"I think we are getting close to a meeting of minds—I am optimistic," Ambassador Juan Plate of Paraguay, head of the mediation group, told The Associated Press.

Johnson launched his new effort to break the deadlocked dispute Saturday. He told his news conference the United States realizes the 1903 Panama Canal treaty "perhaps would require adjustment."

He added that diplomatic relations would have to be resumed without any preconditions before any changes could be considered.

Chiari said Johnson's remarks "were not in conflict" with Panama's basic position on the canal dispute.

Chiari said in a statement that in spelling out his country's position he was not "establishing prior conditions to the contents of the said treaty."

"The important thing now, the cardinal matter, is to express a willingness to negotiate without prior conditions," Chiari said.

Co-op to Get Federal Loan

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — Riceland Electric Co-operative Inc. will receive a 273,000 federal loan for construction of 30 miles of distribution line and general system improvements.

The loan was approved Monday by the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington, said Paul Jones, general manager of the co-operative.

Included in the project will be conversion of an existing 13,800-volt line to 69,000 volts to serve Arkansas River canal construction facilities at Nady and Arkansas Post.

Jones said the new distribution line would enable the co-op to serve 240 new customers. It now has 2,600 customers in Arkansas, Lonoke, Monroe, Jefferson and Prairie counties.

Potent Storm Rumbles Into the Southwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A potent storm rumbled through the Southwest today, plunging a seven-state area with snow, plummeting temperatures and strong winds.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued hazardous conditions for motorists and stockmen.

In the Southeast, another storm zipped along the Atlantic Coast, soaking the area from northwestern Florida to the Carolinas with drenching rain.

The southwestern storm hit portions of Utah, Arizona, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Nebraska and Kansas.

Tucson, Ariz., received a 2-inch snowfall in two hours Monday night, where the snowfall annually averages 1.1 inches. It was the first measurable snowfall since 1958. Some parts of the city measured up to 3 inches.

Heavy snows were welcomed in northern Arizona, where an unusually dry winter has threatened the area with water shortages.

Five inches of wet snow fell in the Denver area as the storm moved eastward across Colorado, creating hazardous driving conditions on extremely slick highways.

Winds measuring more than 30 miles an hour accompanied the snow with gusts causing snow flurries.

In the Southeast, rain-packed storms ranged over a 16-state area from the Ohio Valley to the Gulf and from Louisiana to Virginia.

In Louisiana, 12 families were evacuated in the Baker area 15 miles north of Baton Rouge after 4.60 inches of rain fell in a 24-hour period. Some flooding was expected from the swollen waters of the Atchafalaya and Comite rivers and emergency units stood by.

The Midwest braced for a cold wave as arctic air moved out of Canada. The Weather Bureau issued cold wave warnings for an area from Wyoming to northwestern Wisconsin.

Suit Against a Sheriff Lost

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Negro brother and sister lost a $27,000 civil rights lawsuit against a white Jefferson County deputy sheriff in U.S. District Court Monday.

The jury returned a verdict against Jettie Bohannon, 22, and her brother, Larry, 15, both of Wabbaseka. They had filed suit against Deputy Sheriff Pink Booher.

The suit grew out of an incident at the Bohannon home Oct. 29, 1962. Booher said Miss Bohannon attacked him when he tried to arrest her brother for stealing pecans. The girl said Booher hit her.

Miss Bohannon was fined $50 and sentenced to six months in jail on charges of interfering with an officer and assaulting an officer. The sentence has been appealed to Jefferson Circuit Court. Larry Bohannon was fined $50 for stealing pecans. It was suspended.

The stray dog problem was also discussed. Issued involved a leash law and there was discussion of a dog pound. However, the matter was turned over to the City Manager and Attorney for study.

The city agreed to pave Pincrest Street providing materials were furnished by residents of the area.

Usually the Goals You Only Daydream About Gives You the Greatest Satisfaction

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

There are two kinds of goals in this world—those you do something about, those you don't.

It is the goals you try to achieve that often turn life into a nightmare. It is the goals you only daydream about that sometimes give you your greatest satisfaction.

Everyone has ambitions he prefers to pursue more in phantasy than in real life. They are a portion of childhood's wonderful world of make-believe that we carry over into adulthood and help keep us young.

Sometimes these desires are spoken. Sometimes, for fear of being ridiculed, we hide them in a secret corner of the heart. And whether such dreams come true is really unimportant.

I have a friend whose hobby for more than 30 years has been trumpet playing. During all that time he has entertained a dream—to give a solo concert in Carnegie Hall.

"I don't want to make any money out of my concert," he says. "I don't even want tickets to be sold—not even as a charity benefit. I want to rent the hall with my own money, and invite only the people I want to be there—fellows like Satchmo Armstrong, Miles Davis, Al Hirt and Harry James, people who know an honest trumpet when they hear one."

"I don't even want any other instrument lousing up the back-

Expect Cyprus Approval to Peace Force

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Cyprus was expected to give its approval today to a new small-nation proposal authorizing U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to send an international peace force to the Mediterranean island.

The compromise formula, worked out by five of the six elected members of the U.N. Security Council, was presented to the 11-nation council Monday by Brazilian delegate Carlos Alfredo Bernardes.

The resolution also called for Thant to name a mediator to help solve the constitutional crisis that has brought the Greek and Turkish Cypriots nearly to civil war.

Acceptance by Cyprus was regarded as the key to the plan's success. It faced a possible Soviet veto unless it met the approval of Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus.

Neither the Cyprus nor the Soviet delegation would comment on the resolution. Sources close to the Greek Cypriots said they believed Makarios would go along.

The resolution was drafted by Brazil, Norway, Ivory Coast, Morocco and Bolivia.

The main obstacle had not been the proposed international force, but finding a way to meet conflicting demands of Cyprus and Turkey on how to refer to a 1960 treaty guaranteeing the Cypriot constitution.

The treaty gave Britain, Turkey and Greece the right to intervene to preserve the constitution, which grants the Turkish Cypriot minority veto rights that Makarios wants to do away with. Cyprus wanted all reference to this treaty omitted and insisted on a Security Council guarantee for the territorial integrity of the island republic as protection against invasion by Turkey.

The formula for the international force is similar to that sought by Britain and the United States from the start. The secretary - general would work out with the parties concerned the composition of the force. He would appoint its commander and the commander would report to him. Thant would report to the Security Council, but the council would not control the force.

Hoffa Gets Reprimand From Judge

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —James R. Hoffa received a public reprimand in court today from the federal judge who will send Hoffa's jury-tampering case to the jury before tonight.

When court resumed this morning, Dist. Judge Frank Wilson said he had heard the Teamsters Union president shouting in the corridors outside the courtroom. With the jury absent, he declared:

"I sent a marshal to find out what was going on. He reported back that Mr. Hoffa was complaining very bitterly about the way the marshals were handling the jury."

Hoffa started to reply, but was cut off by a wave of the judge's hand.

"This has happened repeatedly during this trial," the judge said. Peering down at Hoffa, he added: "Let's discontinue these extremely loud arguments both in and out of the courtroom."

In the hall, Hoffa had complained that the marshals were assigned to escort the jury were acting as guards rather than escorts.

Polio Group Donates to UA Project

The Hempstead County Chapter of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, has pledged its support to the Birth Defects Special Treatment Center at the University of Arkansas Medical Center in Little Rock, by making a contribution of $800, it was announced today by Mrs. Lura Impson, Chairman of the local group.

The County Chapter has elected to contribute this amount toward the $32,000.00 per year budget of the Center.

Under the direction of Dr. James L. Dennis, children with birth defects can receive diagnostic service and comprehensive care both as in-patients and as out-patients. Mrs. Impson stated that this is a tremendous medical asset to the State of Arkansas. This Center is one of 70 such centers in the country.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes which sponsors the Center, expanded its program of research, patient aid and public education to include the fields of birth defects and arthritis, after the Salk and Sabin vaccines made it possible to eliminate polio as a serious threat to public health.

Mrs. Impson said that one in every 16 babies is born with a significant birth defect - this means 700 babies a day - 250,000 a year - are born with one or more such disorders. More full-term infants die of birth defects, ranging from cleft lip, club foot, and other widely known conditions, to defects of the central nervous system, massive skeletal, gastro intestinal and other malformations.

Elizabeth Henry Dies at Age 95

Alex. H. Washburn, publisher of The Star, received news yesterday of the death of his aunt, Miss Elizabeth Henry, in a Riverside (Calif.) hospital at the age of 96.

She was the last surviving sister of his mother, the late Annie Henry Washburn. The Henry family were natives of Adams county (Quincy), Illinois, and three of them, Miss Henry, Mrs. Washburn and their late brother John W. Henry of Quincy, helped develop eastern Arkansas in the early 1900's, clearing land on several large tracts east of Forrest City.

Miss Henry visited her nephew in Hope on several occasions. She was a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill., attended the University of Chicago, and was graduated from the internationally famous Library Cataloging School at the University of Leipzig, Germany.

She installed the cataloging system at the library of the University of Illinois, made the same installation at the University of Oklahoma; and then became head librarian at the University of Wyoming, Laramie. She was a master of languages —English, German, Latin, Greek.

Upon retirement she moved to Riverside, Calif., and had lived there continuously ever since, except for family visits in Illinois, Florida, and Arkansas.

Her funeral will be held Saturday, March 7, at Quincy, with burial at Camp Point nearby. In charge of arrangements is John Loomis Funeral Home of Coatsburg, Ill.

Union Withdraws

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — The Steelworkers Union withdrew Monday from a union representation election at Daisy Manufacturing Co. The National Labor Relations Board had set the election for Friday. Unions have tried five times to organize the plant. Employees voted against them three times and twice the unions withdrew.

Callahan said the third man who planned the holdup was Clinton Otwell, a Texarkana insurance man. Otwell was tried in December but the trial ended in a hung jury.

Bryan Salsman of Norman, Okla., testified that he saw a white station wagon driving along the street at a slow speed, and fearing its occupants were after him, hid in bushes by Hooks' home the night of the shooting. Bryan was selling encyclopedias in the neighborhood.

A man got out of the station wagon and also hid in the bushes outside Hooks' home. Salsman said. Salsman said when Hooks and Wallace pulled into the driveway, he got up to warn them, but the other man started shooting and fled to the station wagon.

Salsman said he jumped into the car with Wallace and pursued the station wagon.

Callahan testified that he drove a getaway car with Roden in the front seat. He said he had to stop the car during the chase because another car blocked a narrow bridge and Roden jumped out.

Callahan said he heard shots, and Roden jumped back in the car. Callahan testified he felt sure Roden had a carbine when he got back in the car.

Dorothy Jean Lamb of Tulsa testified that after July 4 Roden gave her a pistol.

British Laborite Approves Deals With Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The British Labor party leader, Harold Wilson, strongly supported today the British government's position in its split with the United States over relations with Cuba and Red China.

Wilson, who conferred Monday with President Johnson, made clear at a news conference that on these issues there will be no backing away from the British stand if his party wins the next election in Britain.

Wilson said the Labor party leadership is aware of arguments by U.S. officials that denial of trade with Cuba would help keep the Cuban-based threat of Communist aggression under control.

"But it's always been the traditional policy of British governments not to use trade embargoes in support of political differences," Wilson said.

Wilson, who arrived here Saturday, heads today for Connecticut to receive an honorary degree from Bridgeport University.

The end of his stay follows what he called "a very good frank talk with President Johnson."

He declined to spell out just what they discussed Monday, but told reporters he couldn't think of any important subjects they hadn't touched on.

Wilson, who would become prime minister if the Labor party wins the forthcoming British election, said his trip here had two purposes: to bring himself up to date on American thinking and to answer any questions.

Tells of 3 Plotting Man's Death

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Leroy Callahan, 44, testified Monday that he, David Roden and a third man planned a hold-up which led to the death of James Henry Wallace of Texarkana.

Roden, 43, of Hochatown, Okla., is on trial for first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Wallace last July 4. Callahan, who has pleaded guilty to first degree murder in the case, is the prosecution's main witness. He has not been sentenced.

The state charges Roden fired the shot that killed Wallace as he chased two men who had attempted to rob his father-in-law, Henry Hooks, outside Hooks' home.

Callahan said the third man who planned the holdup was Clinton Otwell, a Texarkana insurance man. Otwell was tried in December but the trial ended in a hung jury.

Bryan Salsman of Norman, Okla., testified that he saw a white station wagon driving along the street at a slow speed, and fearing its occupants were after him, hid in bushes by Hooks' home the night of the shooting. Bryan was selling encyclopedias in the neighborhood.

THE WEEPING WIDOW MINE

By Nelson C. Nye

THE STORY: Belita Storn was a sorry looking sight when she turned up in Tucson with one of Charlie Medders' mules. She claimed she'd been a prisoner of Charlie's and that the old prospector had a mine in the desert.

all right, but make it short." He looked at his watch. "I'm due at a meeting in about five minutes."

Medders, by her tell, had offered her half the rock they got out in exchange for helping him work at it. He would not let her down in the stipes; her job was to bring the ore up with the windlass and pack it in sacks while he was loading again. Jones said disparagingly: "So, actually, you never saw any mine!"

"I saw the ore he sent up." She poked around in her bodice and tossed him a sample.

The banker, catching it, stepped over to the window. McFarron saw his jaw drop, watched the banker get out a penknife and scratch at it and presently thoughtfully stow it in his pocket. Coming back the great man said to Belita, "I presume you know what sort of ore this is?"

She gave him a hard grin. "It's a kind of a keepsake," and put out her hand.

After he'd reluctantly returned the specimen Tiberius Jones very casually suggested it was likely the prettiest piece of the lot.

The girl shook her head. "One of the poorest, really. I swiped this piece because I did not think he'd miss it or discover I had it on me. Some of those chunks must have been pure silver." She smiled at the greed peering out of Jones' stare. "That vein, in some places, should be a solid foot through and at least a yard wide. It would have to be, judging by what he sent up."

"The point," McFarron said, "is what do we do about it?"

It was easy to see that Tiberius Jones had clean forgot all about the meeting he had been so anxious to get to. Nor was it hard to imagine the drift of thoughts stimulated by the pictures this girl had set up. But once stung, twice shy, as the old saying went, and cagey suspicions were beginning already to fray the fine edges of the triumph he'd glimpsed. It was just too pat, too good to be true.

"To much hook sticking out of that yarn."

"Hook?" McFarron said, peering around.

"You think it makes sense a hardshell like Medders would let this fluff get out of his sight with a story like that? Smells like sweetening mixer to smear on a trap!" Jones, regarding Belita, "Five dollars says she's never seen Charlie Medders!"

The girl stiffened. Her chin shot out. Her eyes began to snap. Starting toward him she cried: "Whose mule do you reckon is chewing up your hitch rail?"

"Mule? Rail?"

"She claims," the sheffit interpreted, "to have got away from Medders on one of his mules. The monstrosity is tied —"

"Recognize it, do you?"

McFarron grimaced, shaking his head. "But if it does belong to Charlie somebody over at Fritchett's oughta."

"You don't need to go to all that bother," Belita Storn exclaimed. "Eying them scornfully, she fished again inside the front of her dress and dug out a paper which she contemptuously tossed on that fine polished desk. Jones stared at the grimy folds as though he looked for a snake to come slithering out. McFarron caught it up. "What's this?" he said, bending to smooth the creases.

"It's the partnership agreement I told you about."

The banker stepped closer, peering over the sheriff's shoulder. In the anxious quiet his sudden intake of breath was disagreeable as a curse. McFarron twisted a look at him. "That Charlie's hand?"

Strangely pale the banker yanked at the bell pull. When the boy put his head in the door Jones growled, "Tell Mr. Turpen I want that Medders folded out of the vault."

As the boy departed the girl sent McFarron a twisted grin and put one hip against an edge of the desk, ignoring the affronted look Jones flung her. She was a cool one all right. The nerve of her won McFarron's grudging respect. She was not one of those he would have cared to play poker with.

Someone knocked at the door; they watched it open. A tall weedy type in black sleeve guards and visor stepped tentatively in with a bluge of folded cardboard. "The Medders account, sir," he said, reaching it out.

Opening it on his desk as far from the girl as the wood allowed, the banker commenced scowling to thumb through a cheaf of clipped papers. Picking out a couple he set them down alongside the cause of all this commotion. Covering all but the signature on Belita's paper he signed to his clerk to come take a look. The man bent over, engrossed, at last straightening. "Same hand, I'd say."

The clerk stepped back. The sheriff squinted, nodded emphatically. "Looks like you got what you asked for. If Charlie signed those, he signed this one, too. Expect we'll have to accept."

"I," Jones said, "accept nothing till it's proved."

The sheriff shrugged, not fooled in the least. Anyone could see the banker was hooked. A child could sense the greed working in him.

McFarron picked up his hat. Belita Storn, reaching over, snatched up her paper. "Here — not so fast," Jones growled, looking testy.

Ignoring him, the girl crammed it into her bodice, the look of her eyes pinning McFarron in his tracks. "Where do you think you're off to now?"

"Might's well get an identification on that mule."

"You already know from his signed agreement."

"Words," McFarron said, sourly smiling at Jones. "Marks on a paper don't signify a mine — ain't that so, T. K.?"

The banker, flushing, clenched white fists, looking more than half ready to go up in smoke. "I tell you I saw it!" the girl cried. The sheriff shook his head. "All you saw was the hand picked stuff he sent up for you to look at. How much ore did you see in place? By your own tell, ma'am you didn't get below that windlass. For all you know that stuff could've been packed in from Tombstone or Tonopah or Ticonderoga."

"It came out of that mine," Belita Storn said doggedly. She whipped the hair back out of her eyes. "Do you think I'm a fool? There was muck on those chunks — the same kind of muck he had on his boots every time he came up!"

McFarron smiled tolerantly. "Have it your way. But if it's that good a deal what'd you want to light out for? You had half comin' just for helpin' him work it. You so wallerin' in wealth you could d—"

"I never agreed to be no peon! You think," she yelled with her eyes wild as lightning. "I'd stay shut up in that hole with a nut like him? Chained every night like a dog on a wire!" She glared at him, furious. "Lookit my ankles!"

May Expand to Take in Lung Cases

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state is considering opening the tuberculosis sanatorium at Booneville for treatment of other lung diseases.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus revealed this today after he was asked about a report that more than 1,000 of the Booneville hospital's 1,500 beds are not occupied.

"We are considering broadening the law to permit treatment of other diseases," Faubus said in a news conference. The governor said it was also possible that the state might close the McRae Sanatorium for Negroes and concentrate all tuberculosis treatment at Booneville.

"But McRae is closer to the center of the tuberculosis incidence and we might keep it for that reason," he said.

Reports of the state Health Department reports indicate that most of Arkansas' tuberculosis cases come from East Arkansas and McRae is in the center of the state, Booneville near the western boundary.

The giant automobile industry tried to defy him in the spring of 1962 with price increases he considered excessive. Erhard pushed a measure through the cabinet lowering tariffs on cars and trucks imported from other Common Market countries.

FRESH WATER FOR GITMO—Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba will be able to manufacture its own fresh water in about six months when the first of three de-salting units ordered by the Navy is operational. The other two units, each to produce at least 750,000 gallons a day, may take a

Moderation Policy Works in Germany

By JOHN WEYLAND

BONN, Germany (AP)—While other Common Market countries suffer from inflation, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard is having unique success in keeping prices down in West Germany with his policy of moderation.

Erhard developed this policy while he was minister of economics, the post he held before succeeding Konrad Adenauer last October. More than two years ago, Erhard warned frequently that all groups would have to limit their demands—show moderation—if postwar prosperity was to continue.

He laid down the general rule that the national growth rate should set the top limit for increases in wages and government spending. Businessmen were to make price increases only if these did not have inflationary effects.

Thanks to the great prestige Erhard built up in engineering the economic miracle of West German recovery, he has been able to make his policy prevail.

The giant automobile industry tried to defy him in the spring of 1962 with price increases he considered excessive. Erhard pushed a measure through the cabinet lowering tariffs on cars and trucks imported from other Common Market countries.

Texas Dist. Setup Ruled Invalid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court affirmed today a decision that Texas statutes establishing the state's 23 congressional districts are unconstitutional.

The high court said its decision was without prejudice to the right of state officials to apply, by April 1, to the U.S. District Court in Houston for "further equitable relief in light of present circumstances."

The circumstances, the Supreme Court said, include "the imminence of the forthcoming election and the operation of the election machinery of Texas as noted previously by the federal District Court in Houston in an opinion."

The high tribunal also ordered continued a stay in the case granted by Justice Hugo L. Black on Oct. 23, 1963.

This stay, the court ordered, will continue "pending timely application" for the relief mentioned previously in today's order and the final disposition of the case by the federal District Court in Houston.

The Houston court, in a 2-1 decision, found the Texas districts invalid, over objections by Gov. John Connally and other Texas state officials. These officials appealed to the Supreme Court asking reversal of the District Court decision.

The high tribunal acted, by coincidence, on Texas' Independence Day. On March 2, 1836, Texas proclaimed freedom from Mexico.

The Supreme Court's unsigned order in the Texas case was followed by a notation that Justice Tom C. Clark, a Texan, joined in today's action. "But upon the grounds stated in his separate opinion" in the Supreme Court's decision two weeks ago in a congressional districting case in Georgia.

The court said in that case that congressional districts must represent the same number of voters, so far as is practicable.

Would Greatly Aid Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., told the Senate Monday that the Cotton-wheat bill pending in the Senate would give cotton a new lease on life and help the industry.

He said passage of the bill would "gain a foothold on the pathway toward a freer and more prosperous market."

He said 500,000 people in Arkansas depend directly on cotton for their livelihood. The "consequences of a failure of cotton as a major crop would be tremendous," he added.

Charge Not Detailed

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs ordered Hot Springs Police Chief John Ermy and the Hot Springs Civil Service Commission to restore former patrolman Wayne Miles to the police department Monday. Miles was discharged Dec. 4, 1962 for conduct unbecoming a police officer. Details of the charge were never revealed.

Opposes Sections of Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., says "I can live with a great deal" of the omnibus civil rights bill but that he opposes some sections unalterably.

McClellan said in a television interview ("Opinion in the Capital")-Metropolitan Broadcasting including station WTTG-TV, Washington) Sunday that he considers "not too promising" the chances of southern senators to make any serious modifications of the House-passed bill.

"But in the course of proceedings of debate," he added, "there may well develop an attitude of 'let's try to work this out and compromise and get the best measure you can.' I don't know. That may very well develop and it may not."

He said the parts of the bill "most distasteful to me" are the public accommodations section and the authority to cut off federal aid funds to states where discrimination is practiced.

As to the former, he said "I don't think anyone has the constitutional right to tell me how to run my business as long as I run it within the law."

McClellan said "I have no objection to some of the things" in the bill "except that some of it is intended, I think, just to reflect on my section of the country."

"You talk about the voting rights. May I say to you, and I say this without any reservations, in Arkansas, long before the Supreme Court decision, long before any of this agitation developed, every Negro in my state who wanted to vote, voted."

"All he had to do was exactly what white people did—pay a poll tax."

Discussing the civil rights situation generally, McClellan said "It isn't the South that's going to get the worst of the deal."

"You've got evidence of it all around you. That's what it's leading to and that's what it's developing into."

"We're not the ones that will be the greatest victims. Look at the agitation that's developing in your northern cities now."

CHATTER

By "BILL"

Since the first of the year, fashion forecasters have been busy with their predictions. According to what we read by the trade papers and magazines, reporters have sharpened their pencils as well as their wits, and from now on until Easter we will be given information almost every day on what the well-dressed men and women will be wearing.

Believe it or not, we just read that pale pink trousers seem to be the favorite for men, along with darker coats. And just in case a man cares to be a little more flamboyant, a turkey red vest will light up a dark suit! Sounds colorful to say the least. Feminine styles accent the positive... just what positive, we are not quite sure, but anyway there is a variety to choose from.

Suits are first on the fashion list, and this is because they can be worn early without a coat and most women are tired of coats.

You can take your choice in a suit, a long slim jacket or a short one.
Many suit jackets can be worn as separate coats, with other dresses. We were not very enthusiastic about this until we tried a few on, and they are really smart looking.

There is a casual air about the new suits; they feel like something you have worn for a long time, none of that "new" feeling. The fabrics are varied but all lightweight. Knits, double and single, still have the overall preference. You will find yourself looking at the label to tell cotton from silk; one feels like the other, and both look alike.

We have a complete collection of new suits in stock. It is fun to come in early and try them on; you will get ideas!

And, of course, while you are here you will want to see the new Spring dresses; we could talk all day and never be able to describe them all. We have added Doris Original millinery just in time for Easter. It is shopping time, and we will be delighted to see you at Raley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion.

Tuesday, March 3 in the Hempstead County Memorial Hospital. Dr. George Wright will be the guest speaker. All Licensed Practical Nurses and anyone else interested are invited as guests.

Thursday, March 5
William H. Turner and Alan R. Symonds, executives of the Arkansas Arts Center in Little Rock, will be at the Community Room of the First National Bank at 7:00 p.m. Thursday, March 5 to meet with all those in Hope and this area who are interested in forming a Chapter of the Arkansas Arts Center here. Details will be explained, advantages outlined, and questions answered. Everyone interested in invited.

The Gardenia Garden Club will meet Thursday, March 5 at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Guy Basye. Program chairman Mrs. Fred Glanton will present Jack Spates as the guest speaker. Each member is asked to bring something for the Green Box.

Friday, March 6
The Rose Garden Club will meet at 2 p.m. Friday, March 6 in the home of Mrs. Garrett Story with Mrs. Douglas Drake and Mrs. Ray Allen, co-hostesses. Mrs. Joe Rooker will have charge of the program.

Friday Bridge Club
Mrs. H. C. Whitworth used japonica to decorate her home for the Friday Bridge Club which met with her on February 28. The two tables of players included two club guests, Mrs. P. R. Moses and Mrs. R. T. White. High scorers for the afternoon were Mrs. Moses and Mrs. Charles Harrell. The hostess served pie a la mode and coffee for refreshments.

Girl Scout Picnic
Girl Scout Troop 117 entertained their parents with a picnic supper at the Little House on Friday, February 28. In the new Cadet Scout Program, this was a part of the Social Dependability Challenge.
The table was covered with a green cloth and centered with an arrangement of fruit and greenery. The girls served to 20. Mrs. John B. Gardner and Mrs. Henry Seamans are the troop leaders.

HOW TO SPOT A WOLF AND WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I'm a divorcee and fortunately am still considered attractive. Naturally, I'd like to meet an eligible man, and marry again. My problem is in finding out which one is sincere and worthwhile, and which, to put it bluntly, is on the make. Lots of attractive women have this problem. How can we tell the difference in these men's approaches, and how can we handle the situation if we become involved with the wrong person? —V. V.

Dear V.V. Of course, I could tell you it's simple: Just don't get involved. But it is more difficult than that.

The unsophisticated male, out for all he can get, is easy to spot. He's unusually rough and ready, and the direct type.

Far more dangerous is the experience male who's made a study of girls. They're his avocation. How does he act? It's easier to tell from what he doesn't do. He never urges, he never begs, he never coerces. He makes a big point of being a gentleman, until you're embarrassed. He conducts a carefully thought-out campaign you don't catch onto readily.

It's object is to induce a girl to yield without giving battle. Because nothing is done to bring on opposition, she has no chance to defend herself. In fact, she may find herself cleverly manipulated into the position of being the aggressor, and this without quite knowing how.

These approaches are subtle, and because they are, they're successful. For example, let me give you an approach that is sometimes called the "open-handed" approach. Before you know it, this gentleman is quite gallant in spending his evenings and money on you. Not a high pressure campaign at all. He makes no empty promises, and doesn't ask what you'd like.

This is smart. If you were asked what you wanted, then you'd feel you'd made a request. Instead, he first gives you little things—flowers, candy, perfume, perhaps some trinket he knows you'd like.

He may do more than that, in a diplomatic way, of course. Perhaps a winter fur is involved. They do predict a cold winter, you know. Or maybe it's a diamond you once saw in a window. It was just made for you. Soon you're on the receiving end of substantial presents. Now, it's very easy to become accustomed to good things, and in no time at all a girl finds herself dependent on this sort of kindness, all too dependent.

In effect, she's married without legal security.

How to handle the situation? She has to start early. Look out for the generous man, bearing innocent gifts. She mustn't let herself get accustomed to presents, or the open-handed will be successful.

There's a second technique I see in my letters. It's called the "ring play" by men-about-town. It's shocking but true that some men will use the symbol of a pretty girl's good faith to get the best of their promised bride. That is, by giving her an engagement ring.

Mellowed and softened by the security and good fortune of her engagement, a girl is an easy target for a man's dishonorable intentions. Cost: One ring, not often large—for sentiment, you know, to be replaced later by a large one, he says. Just what girl can suspect a man of putting on an act while his engagement diamond sparkles on her finger? The most forward suggestions don't seem too unreasonable from the wonderful man who's going to marry her.

To avoid being caught in this maneuver, a girl should remember that an engagement ring is no substitute for a wedding ring. Until she has the certificate, she isn't safely home.

may steam from the fact that older people tend to have positions of authority and can get their opinions enforced more easily.

But actually, according to Dr. Josef Brozek of the University of Minnesota, most people become easier not harder to get along with as they grow older.

Although the old may be more emotional about some things and more sensitive to criticism, on the whole they are more forgiving, more tolerant of human weakness, less demanding of their relatives and immediate family.

For in most cases along with the gray hairs, patience, understanding, and sympathy for others have grown through the years.

Cool and Rainy for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas' mid-week weather will be cool and rainy.

Highs in the low 70s today will give way to lows tonight in the mid 40s and low 50s before cooler air hits the state, the Weather Bureau said today.

Occasional rain and scattered thundershowers were forecast for all sections of the state.

Low temperatures early today were mostly in the low and mid 40s. Maximums Monday were generally in the 60s.

Warmer weather is expected to return Thursday and remain the rest of the week. Fog covered most of the state early today and the Memphis Weather Bureau issued a hazardous driving warning for Eastern Arkansas.

questions put to him. Asked for his evaluation of Johnson, the Labor party leader said: "I felt the Western Alliance and the United States are in good hands."

Wilson wouldn't be drawn into a discussion of British politics but did say he thought the British election would be held soon, rather than in the fall.

Although Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home could put the voting off until fall, there have been reports it may be held in June.

Before conferring with Johnson, Wilson talked with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Undersecretary George W. Ball, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and McGeorge Bundy, the President's special assistant on national security affairs.

Wilson was accompanied here by his wife and 15-year-old son. While he and Johnson had their conference, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Wilson talked over tea.

FCC Accepts TV Antenna Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission accepted Monday the application of television station KATV (Channel 7) to move its antenna from near Pine Bluff to near Redfield in Jefferson County.

The application also asked permission to increase the height of the antenna and raise its transmitting power.

The FCC earlier refused the station permission to move the antenna from 14 miles northwest of Pine Bluff to a point 12 miles southwest of Little Rock. The proposed new location would be off U.S. 65 two miles north of Redfield.

Australian Ace Rejects Pro Offer

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Roy Emerson, the Australian tennis ace, said today he has rejected a lucrative pro offer and plans to continue as an amateur through 1964.

The 27-year-old Australian and French champion, who was barred from Davis Cup play by his home association only last Friday for violating a travel ban, said he received a new three-year contract calling for more money from an Australian cigarette firm.

He works as a sales and public relations representative for the company. Emerson said the new deal will permit him to play three more years as an amateur but he said he may quit after this year.

The lean Queenslander, winner of his two singles matches in the 3-2 loss of the Davis Cup to the United States last December, said he turned down a pro offer of $50,000 for 30 months.

Emerson and Ken Fletcher, the third-ranked Aussie, both were barred from the Australian Davis Cup team by the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia because they ignored a ruling about playing overseas prior to March 31. The two left home to compete in the United States and in Caribbean tournaments.

Flamingo Stake Today's

Race Feature

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hialeah Park winds up its 40-day meeting today, offering the $100,000-added Flamingo Stakes for 3-year-olds as its feature attraction.

Eleven were entered in the 1½ miles race, each carrying 122 pounds in the first major event of 1964 for Derby-age horses in the East.

The forecast called for partly cloudy and mild weather, with a fast track.

From a list of 81 nominees, for which owners paid $200 each, the field was cut to 11 of the best at the moment. It cost $1,000 to enter and $1,000 to start, making a pool of $138,200.

Of this, the winner gets $89,830 with 27,640 for second, 1,820 for third and $6,910 to the fourth place finisher.

Fight Probe Runs Into a Roadblock

By G. MILTON KELLEY

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - A

planned running start this week on a Senate investigation of an unusual promotional deal between heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay and ex-champ Sonny Liston has run into a roadblock.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.,

announced Monday he will have to delay the hearings until after the Senate finishes its forthcoming debate on the civil rights bill. Thus the Clay-Liston hearings probably won't begin for several weeks or months.

But, Hart said, the probe will be "one of the first orders of business" for his Senate Anti-trust and Monopoly subcommittee after the civil rights fight has been settled.

The fight hearings will be held against the background of proposed legislation designed to place big time professional boxing under tough federal policing by a national boxing commissioner.

The official would have broad powers to check into agreements between the camps of rival boxers, between boxers and "hidden" managers, and to combat underworld infiltration of the boxing business.

The legislation was suggested several years ago by the late Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and the idea was revived after Clay dethroned Liston a week ago tonight.

Hart had expected a lull in Senate business which would let him conduct hearings Thursday and Friday, with Liston and Clay among the witnesses.

But his announcement said he has learned he probably will be refused permission to conduct any hearings while the Senate pursues a schedule of early-starting sessions to clear the way for the civil rights debate.

Don't Count Out the Hawks Yet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"The Warriors aren't in by any means yet, and they know it," says St. Louis Hawks Coach Harry Gallatin.

The Hawks, with nine regular-season National Basketball Association games left, moved within 2½ games of San Francisco, the Western Division leaders, by defeating the Warriors 111-102 Monday.

"The next two days off will help us a lot," commented Coach Alex Hannum, whose Warriors have eight games remaining, including a clash on Thursday in San Francisco against the Hawks.

The Warriors showed the effects of five games in five different cities on five consecutive nights. St. Louis outscored San Francisco 33-21 in the last quarter.

CHILD IS GROWING UP—The amount of revenue the government collects in income taxes is growing steadily. In spite of the tax cut, today's income tax is a far cry from what the founders of the country or even the original advocates of an income tax had in mind. Today the government relies on income taxes for more than 80 per cent of its revenue. Since World War II, inflation has almost doubled the cost of living, but federal income tax collections from individuals, see graph, have almost tripled.

3 More Teams Accept Bids to Tournament

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas State, Miami and St. Joseph's have joined the "ins," Wichita became a large "may," Ohio State a "could be," and whatever happened to Kentucky?

Miami, Fla., and St. Joseph's Pa., accepted invitations Monday to the National Invitation Tournament, the seventh and eighth teams in the 12-team bracket. Kansas State clinched the Big Eight basketball title and the accompanying NCAA tourney berth. Wichita clinched a share of the Missouri Valley Conference lead, which also entails an NCAA tourney spot. And Ohio State kept its hopes alive.

UCLA, top-ranked in the nation, rolled on unbeaten, pushing its mark to 25-0 with an 87-57 rout of California.

But whatever happened to Kentucky?

It appears that Coach Adolph Rupp's nationally third-ranked heroes got caught looking the other way. St. Louis, an also-ran, shocked the Wildcats 67-60 in Kentucky's final game of the regular season.

It was Kentucky's first loss of the season on its home court and reduced the Southeastern Conference champions overall record to 21-4. The St. Louis zone limited Kentucky's Cotton Nash to two field goals until he broke through in the last two minutes after the game was out of reach.

Kansas State, meanwhile, edged Oklahoma State 63-59 in overtime and clinched its seventh Big Eight title in nine years, with the help of Kansas, which eliminated runner-up Colorado 73-71 in overtime.

Wichita, ranked fifth in the nation, whipped North Texas State 90-83 and tied idle Drake for the Missouri Valley top spot each with 10-2 and the regular season completed. They'll meet Friday in a playoff game to determine the league's NCAA representative.

All America Gary Bradds helped keep Ohio State in the Big Ten picture, leading the Buckeyes to an 86-75 triumph over Illinois. Bradds tossed in 34 points in Ohio State's fifth straight league triumph. It put the Buckeyes into the top spot with an 11-2 record but they'll need help to make it to the NCAA tourney.

Mighty Michigan, ranked second in the nation, has a 10-2 conference mark with two games to go. Ohio State has only one remaining. If they end in a tie, Michigan gets the tourney spot since the Wolverines haven't been in the tourney in 16 years and Ohio State made it two years ago.

Kansas State pushed its overall record to 18-5 and 10-2 in the league with the triumph over Oklahoma State, its ninth straight and fourth in overtime. The loss spoiled Oklahoma State's bid for Coach Henry Iba's 700th coaching victory.

In other major action, Stanford romped over Washington State 81-55, Idaho beat Montana 64-51, Minnesota whipped Wisconsin 105-96 and Iowa upset Purdue 81-74.

Hope Boys Down Little Rock Club

Hope's Jr. Rifle Club fired a shoulder to shoulder, three position match with the Little Rock Jr. Club, Saturday afternoon at the National Guard Armory.

From a possible of 1200, the locals four top shooters totaled 1054 to 976 to the capitol city boys. In individual shooting, Hope took seven places in the top eleven as follows: Royston, Hope, 276; Fountain, Hope, 287; Wright, Hope, 260; Wade, L.R., 258; Fincher, Hope, 251; Eschbaugh, L.R., 247; Ferguson, L.R., 244; Sulina L.R., 227; Ward, Hope, 223; Rowe, Hope, 218; Rogers, Hope, 217 Middlebrook, L.R., 168 and Kinsey L.R., 134.

The local club will travel to Center, Texas for the NRA National matches on March 21st and 22nd and will shoot a return match with the Little Rock Club on April 11th.

In the Jr. Rifle Club's February tournament, the following shooters received awards: Grandy Royston, High overall, Jack Fountain, High Sub-Jr. and 2nd overall, David Fincher, 2nd Sub-Jr. and 3rd overall, Randy Still, High Sub-Jr. (prone only), Tommy Edwards, High Under 12, Davi Ward, 3rd Sub Jr., Don Williams, Charles Rateliff and Dan Stuart, 3rd Under 12 (tie) and Jimmy Rogers 2nd Sub-Jr. (prone only).

Celtics Put Supremacy on the Line

NEW YORK (AP)—When the Boston Celtics put their Eastern Division supremacy on the line Wednesday and Thursday in back-to-back National Basketball Association scuffles with Cincinnati, they'll be contending with an "improved" Oscar Robertson.

The Royals' ace hasn't been exactly lagging—he paces the NBA in two individual departments, according to latest league statistics. But Robby has been stepping up his point production while adding to his leads in playmaking and free throw accuracy.

Robertson, second to San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain in the scoring column, raised his average from 31.1 to 31.3 in last week's action. Chamberlain also showed a gain—from 36.5 to 36.7—as the Warriors closed in on their first Western Division title.

The Celtics-Royals meetings will bring together two of the circuit's top rebounders. Bill Russell of Boston is the leader with 24.8 caroms per game. Royals rookie Jerry Lucas, whose 40 rebounds against Philadelphia last Saturday set a single-game high current season, is among the top five retrievers.

Lucas is No. 1 in field goal accuracy with a .528 percentage from the floor. Robertson is .853 from the foul line and has averaged 10.9 assists per game. Boston's top scorer is John Havlicek, 10th in the league with a 19.8 average.

Rally Proves Enough for Cool Cats

In the final games of the Little League Basketball season Saturday, the Hot Rods outlasted the Cool Cats 24 to 21. The Cool Cats, playing without two regular starters to begin the game, fell behind 13 to 5 in the first half, but rallied late in the final minutes and almost pulled the game out of the fire. Henley was high for the winners with 13, Jerry Don Still had 7 and Eldon Mayfield 5. Terry Hair and Danny Turner led the losers with 7 each, Terry Turner had 5 and Tommy Miller 2.

In the second game, the Bo Diddies outscored the Dirt Dobbies 29-21. The Dirt Dobbies jumped off to a commanding lead in the first quarter, but the Blue team got hot and gradually overcame the lead to go ahead by 1 point at the end of the first half, and eventually widened the gap to 8 points for the win. Larry East led the winners with 16, Jerry Hartfield had 9 and Sid Hollis 4. Bobby Watson was high for the Reds with 13, Ronnie Haynie had 4, Fred Verser 2 and Johnny Young and Lane Bealy had 1 each.

Rudolph Has Prize Money at N. Orleans

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"This has been some day," said Mason Rudolph, pocketing the $7,500 first place check in the Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tourney.

"We almost didn't start, almost didn't finish and almost everything happened in between," said the bespectacled pro from Tennessee's dark-furred tobacco country, who came close to blowing a four-stroke lead in the wrapup of the $50,000 tourney Monday.

The 29-year-old Clarksville belter had to scramble for a final three-over-par 75. It gave him a 72-hole total of 283, one stroke in front of Masters and PGA champion Jack Nicklaus, Puerto Rican Jan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez and unknown Glenn Stuart, a Michigan club pro.

The final round was nearly rained out. At 9 a.m., the scheduled starting time, a hard rain was falling on the 7,020-yard Lakewood Country Club course. An hour later the rain stopped and after another hour the greens had dried off enough to permit play.

Then defending champion Bo Winger, confused over the delay, showed up three minutes late for his tee off time and was disqualified. He was out of contention, however, with a 54-hole total of 220, which was 12 strokes behind Rudolph.

Rudolph had his troubles. He started out with a bogey five on the second hole and was constantly in trouble because of the fairway bunkers—he was in six of them during the round.

Turning for the final nine, Rudolph was two strokes over par.

Scars Could Linger for Sandy Koufax

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The contract battle between star pitcher Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers is over but the scars may linger for some time — perhaps long enough to damage the Dodgers' chances for a second successive pennant.

There is a district coolness between Koufax and Dodger General Manager Buzz Bavasi, whom the brilliant southpaw accused Monday of deliberately casting him in the villain's role, forcing Sandy to accept a $70,000 contract for 1964.

"I've been hurt by people who I thought were my friends," said Koufax. "I was maneuvered into a corner where I was forced to agree to their terms or else be regarded as a greedy, no-good bum. When I met with Bavasi the last time I knew I had to sign no matter what they offered."

"They (the Dodgers) planted a story in a newspaper that I would quit if I did not get $90,000 plus a bonus based on attendance and a cut from pay television. The fact of the matter is I asked for just a few thousand dollars over what I finally agreed to. The Dodgers know this but all the people who had read the headlines says I'm marked as the greediest, most selfish guy in the world."

Bavasi, still in Los Angeles, reportedly is "fit to be tied" by Koufax' claim and a source close to the Dodger front office said the fuming general manager planned to fly to Vero Beach Wednesday to have it out with his star pitcher.

Koufax, who received $32,000 last year for winning 25 games and adding two more in the Dodgers' four-game World Series sweep over the New York Yankees, has not yet actually signed his 1964 contract. His agreement so far is an oral one.

Sandy appeared worn and haggard as he discussed his front office troubles with newspapermen.

"A couple of years ago they chastised me for what they said was negotiating through the newspapers," said Koufax. "But it's all right for them to do it. I guess whoever gets to the papers first wins the battle."

"I agreed to terms but I told Bavasi I was unhappy. Not so much at the terms of the contract but because of the way they had pushed me into a corner."

"I'm no longer angry, but hurt. I haven't been able to sleep ever since this happened. Whenever I talk about it, my voice starts shaking and I become upset. I spoke for an hour and a half with Mr. O'Malley."

Delight Rolls on in State B Tournament

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Pyatt, champion of District 1B East, handed 2B South champion Batesville Southside its second loss of the season in a 58-56 first-round upset in the Class B State Basketball Tournament here Monday.

Delight took its 38th straight victory with a 54-34 decision over Jessieville, 5B South winner; and County Line bounced St. Charles 56-49 in other openers Monday.

Three more first-round games in the B meet are scheduled today. Dyess, 3B title holder, takes on 8B South champion Wilmot; 5B North winner Greenbrier faces 6B winner Hickory Ridge; and Marmaduke, runnerup in 3b, faces Taylor, winner of the 7B East title.

The triumph by Pyatt, which now has a 31-7 record, puts the team against Delight, 7B West champion, in a Wednesday night quarterfinal.

County Line, 4B winner, faces the winner of today's match between Dyess and Wilmot Thursday.

Southside came back from a 2-11 deficit to go ahead of Pyatt early in the second half. The lead changed often, and Pyatt didn't go ahead for good until 1:24 was left in the game.

Bill Milligan of Southside was the game's top scorer with 27 and teammate Steve Sexton added 19. Larry Rogers led Pyatt with 15, while Jim Cheek had 14 and Gary Rogers had 12. Southside went into the tourney with a 37-1 record.

Delight led Jessieville from the early moments. Ninth-rated in the Associated Press poll of state basketball teams, Delight is the only Class B school in the AP's top ten.

Darrel Oates had 26 for Jessieville and Mike Lamb put in 23 for Delight.

County Line, 4B winner, used the hot shooting of Bob Chastain to beat St. Charles, runner-up in 6B. Chastain hit 10 of his 18 points in the third quarter to give County Line a healthy lead. St. Charles held the lead most of the first half, and had a 23-20 halftime margin. Terry Almond dropped in 17 for the losers.

Michigan's Wolverines moved into the runner-up position behind all-conquering UCLA in The Associated Press major-college basketball poll today.

UCLA piled up 398 points on 38 votes for first place and two for second from the 40 regional selectors participating in the next-to-last poll of the season.

Duke and Oregon State collected the remaining first place votes. The final poll will be taken next week.

Michigan switched places with Kentucky's Wildcats. The Wolverines had 322 points and Kentucky 300 on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second etc. The balloting was based on games through last Saturday.

Duke, Wichita and Oregon State followed Kentucky, holding their positions in the same order as last week.

However, Davidson's 81-82 setback by Virginia Military resulted in a shuffle in the final four places in the Top Ten. The Wildcats from Davidson, N.C. tumbled into the 10th spot while Villanova, DePaul and Loyola of Chicago each climbed one notch, to seventh, eighth and ninth, respectively.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Waldo Wins Opening Title Game

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rector won on two free shots after the final buzzer, but Charleston and Waldo had easier times marking up opening round victories in the Class A State Basketball Tournament Monday.

Two free shots by Leroy Brewer gave Rector a 52-50 victory over Perryville. Waldo took Walnut Ridge 86-70 and Charleston won over Marianna 60-43.

Rector, runnerup in District 3A, faces the winner of today's Mountain Home-Drew Central game in Thursday quarterfinals, while Waldo and Charleston face each other in quarterfinals Wednesday night.

In other first round games today, Brinkley, 6A champion, takes on 8A runnerup Monticello and 7A West winner Ashdown plays 4A runnerup Mulberry.

Perryville, runnerup in 5A, overtook Rector midway through the second quarter and it was a close game the rest of the way. Brewer was fouled as the buzzer sounded, and he sank both charity tosses.

Bill Cossy had 24 points for Rector and Gary Glenn scored 23 for Perryville.

Charleston, 4A champion, took the lead from Marianna in the second quarter and never lost it. Ronnie Metcalf had 20 for Charleston and Daniel O'Bar added 17. Jim Doyles and Jim Wood both scored 10 for Marianna, 6A runnerup.

Waldo built up a 40-24 half time margin over Walnut Ridge and the 2A runnerup team could not get back in contention. Freddie Dobbs with 28 led scoring for Walnut Ridge and David Watkins and Terry Horn put in 21 each for Waldo, 7A East champion.

Convinced Palmer Will Snap Back

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Golf's touring professionals aren't deriving much comfort out of Arnold Palmer's mild winter slump—they're convinced he'll snap back.

"This fellow has entirely too much ability and too much desire to be held down for very long," Bill Capser Jr. said today. "He may have to subordinate some of his outside interests, but I'm convinced he'll be winning golf tournaments for years to come."

"He's more or less playing what you call o'possum right now," added Gary Player, the little South African who has been chasing Yankee gold so long he also has picked up American slang expressions.

"When the big ones come up, Arnie will be ready. You can't win-win-win all the time. Palmer will be there when it counts. How can you bet against him in the Masters?"

Palmer, the sport's all-time leading money winner who set a record winning mark of $128,230 last year, has caused some concern to sweep through Ar-

Pro Football Gives Up TV Proposal

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League says there will be no national television of its Friday night games. College and high school leaders say that's just dandy, and all is sweetness and light today in the undeclared and unofficial dispute.

"We are very pleased by the decision by the NFL," said Asa Bushnell, head of the NCAA television committee after the meeting with NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle Monday.

"We feel it was the wise decision to make to avoid overexposure of football on television," Bushnell continued. "It leaves Friday night to the high schools and the few colleges that play on that night."

The NFL had put a "premature" label on published reports of a possible national telecast of a series of five Friday night pro games, but didn't get around to a concrete statement on it until Monday. Those reports had brought considerable fire from the National Collegiate Athletic Association through Executive Director Walter Byers and Bushnell, as well as leaders of various high school groups.

A league spokesman pointed out, however, that the decision in no way disturbs a long-standing NFL provision allowing individual clubs to televise their road games back to their home areas, regardless of the day of the week the game is played.

nie's Army because of his failure to win a tournament so far this year.

Palmer, whose score of 289 gave him a 10th place finish in the New Orleans Open won Monday by Mason Rudolph, acknowledges that he is having his troubles, but says he isn't greatly troubled.
